A STRANGER DIES VERY SUD-DENLY IN ROANOKE.

Meeting of the Depositors of the Roanoke Loan, Trust and Deposit Company—Report of the Trustees.

The Outlook.

ROANOKE, VA., June 22.—(Special)—J.

W. Beech, of Sperryville, Va., was taken suddenly ill here this morning, near the post-office, and before the persons who met him by the hand. He will remain here several days. This is his first visit to

New C. J. McKenney, of Richmond, was caught between two freight cars shortly before 10 o'clock to-night, and sustained painful and ugly wounds to his left leg, ankle and foot. The necessary medical attention was rendered, after which the unfortunate man was removed to his boarding-house. Mr. McKenney came here from Richmond last month.

Newport News for the making of one of the great cities of the future. Mr. Huntington then took a position near the entrance of the hotel, and the large crowd of ladies and gentlemen filed in and shook him by the hand. He will remain here several days. OLD BURG AND VICINITY.

Death of a Stafford Lady—Political and Personal.

FREDERICKSBURG, VA., June 22.—(Special)—Mrs. James Armstrong, of the Berean Church neighborhood, in Stafford county, died yesterday, in the 78th year of her age, and was buried this afternoon from the above-named church.

St. George's Episcopal church is making extensive preparations for a service on Wednesday. A crowd will go this being the first Sunday-school outing this summer.

A lawn party will be given to-morrow evening by R. S. Chew Camp, Sons of Confederate Veterans. Many new features will be introduced, and the affair promises to be a big success.

A mose-meeting of the Democrats of Spotsylvania county has been called by the Cape Charles Congressional Convention that will make the congressional nomination.

Intelligence has been received here of the probable fatal illness of Captain John Ward at his home, in Philadelphia. Captain Ward has been in the business here for many years, and is well known in Richmond, having been a long time connected with the firm of W. T. Conroy & Co.

Richmond was well represented in the old burg Sunday, many of the capital daughters and sons spending the day there.

ALL FOR OTEY.

The Lynchburg Delegates to the Sixth District Convention.

LYNCHBURG, VA., June 22.—(Special)—A mass-meeting of the Democratic party of the city was held to-night for the purpose of selecting delegates to the congressional convention of the Sixth District of Virginia, which convenes at Bedford City on July 23. All of the delegations from Virginia, which Lynchburg is entitled to are for Major Peter J. Otey, who has represented this district in Congress for the past two years. The interest of the meeting was much heightened by a feeling speech from Major Otey, in which he expressed his appreciation of the honor conferred upon him.

SONS OF HERMAN.

NEWPORT NEWS, VA., June 22.—(Special)—The Sons of Herman for the State of Virginia was instituted in this city Sunday evening, with the following officers: Clemens Henkel, of Newport News, ex-grand President; Paul Scherer, of Roanoke, Grand Vice-President; Ernest Ott, of Alexandria, Grand Secretary; Robert Dorn, of Newport News, Grand Treasurer; E. Y. Herman, of Norfolk, Grand Chaplain; S. Shaefer, of Richmond, Grand Inside Guide; L. Scholtz, of Roanoke, Grand Outside Guide. The next convention will be held at Richmond in January.

Frontline Citizen of Albemarle Dead.

CHARLOTTEVILLE, VA., June 22.—(Special)—Mr. William Bruffey died yesterday at Red Hill. He was 75 years of age, and one of the most respected citizens of Albemarle county. He leaves a family. His funeral took place this afternoon.

The farmers in this section are quite busy now with their corn crop. The rainfall at present is exceedingly good for a large crop. The hay crop in this country this year is woefully short. In some places the grass seems to have been entirely killed out, probably by the severe drought of last summer and fall. The wheat crop section not far off the coast a third of a crop was made. The wheat crop is a good one, as is also the top of oats.

WILL RESUME CHARGE.

Rev. H. E. Rowe, lately president of Wesleyan Female College, of Macon, Ga., has returned here, to his old home, and will resume charge of Bowling Green Female Seminary, which he successfully managed, returning to Macon. Mrs. Rowe has had several very advantageous offers elsewhere, but declined them in order to come back to his old home.

Bav. R. T. Waterfield, of the Methodist church here, has been granted a vacation, and will leave for Norfolk this week, where he will enjoy the sea-breezes.

Mr. James Daniel Colerain De Jarnette has returned home from Washington and Lee University, where he carried off a good many honors. Besides completing the law course there in one year, he was selected as the law-class orator.

Mr. Harry Hart is home again from Richmond College, where he took the degree of A. B., as is also Mr. C. W. Walker, who took the same degree at Randolph-Macon College.

Years Elliott De Jarnette and R. A. Coghill have also returned home for their vacations. The former is pursuing the course in medicine, and the latter the course in law, at the University of Virginia.

A DOUBLE MARRIAGE.

Cards have been issued for a double marriage, to take place at Concord Baptist church, in this county, on Thursday morning, June 22, with the contracting parties, Miss Arctic Bowers to Mr. William S. Eastwood, of West Point, Va., and Miss Ruth Bowers to Rev. Melvin A. Martin. The Misses Bowers are the attractive daughters of Mr. William S. Bowers of this county.

Mr. John L. White has returned home from a trip to Old Point Comfort.

Mr. W. Chamber, of the law firm of Chamber & Chamberlain, this place, is away on a trip to "The Beach."

Mrs. Clara Wright, who has been studying music in New York the past winter, returned home last night.

MARRIED IN OXFORD.

A Romantic Affair—The Boy Preacher at Keyesville.

KEYSVILLE, VA., June 22.—(Special)—L. H. Corley, Superintendent of the Waterworks in Farmville, and Miss Myrtle Bonnard, of Hampden-Sidney, reached here yesterday night, and took the train for Oxford, N. C., where they were married yesterday morning. They returned to this place yesterday afternoon, where their family awaited them.

The secret of the proceeding is the fact that Miss Bonnard was to have been married to-morrow to a gentleman from New Mexico. This gentleman is now en route to Virginia, and was expected to arrive this afternoon.

Rev. W. B. Holcombe, "the boy preacher," has been conducting a revival in the Methodist church here for the last week. He has great success, and large crowds flock to hear the boy at each service. His power for good is wonderful for one of his age.

RECEPTION TO HUNTINGTON.

The People of Newport News Welcome Him—Painful Accident.

NEWPORT NEWS, VA., June 22.—(Special)—The citizens of Newport News gave an informal reception to-night at Hotel Warwick in honor of Mr. Collis P. Huntington, the founder of this city, who arrived here at a late hour Saturday night in his private car from New York. The Huntington ladies turned out, and quite a throng gathered about the West-avenue entrance of the hotel. Mr. Parker, terminus superintendent of the Chesapeake & Ohio, introduced Mr. Huntington to the assemblage in a well-worded address, after which Mr. Huntington stepped out upon the sidewalk and made a brief speech, thanking the citizens for their welcome, and impressing them with the numerous advantages of

A YALE SENSATION.

THE OUTRAGEOUS SPEECH OF REV. DR. TWICHELL.

Objects to the Planting of Ivy from the Tomb of Lee. But the Seniors Planted It, and Will Protect It.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., June 22.—(Special)—Yale's commencement exercises were marked to-day by an incident as unusual as it was sensational. The senior class voted heartily to accept as its class ivy a sprig of the rare vine from the tomb of General Robert E. Lee. It was planted at dusk this evening. At noon Rev. Dr. Twichell, of Hartford, member of the corporation, and a former captain in the Union army, delivered the Woolsey-Memorial statue dedicatory address. Dr. Twichell spoke in a reminiscent manner of his return from the army, when he stopped at Yale, and met President Woolsey. He told of the persistency with which President Woolsey paled him on matters of news pertaining to the Yale men in the South. "He was a Union man, heart and soul," said Dr. Twichell, "and it would make this bronze statue avert its head were we to know that the graduating class of Yale were to plant on the walls of a building on the campus ivy from the grave of General Robert E. Lee. General Lee was a good man, but he was loyal to an infamous cause."

LIKE A CLAP OF THUNDER.

This utterance of Dr. Twichell came like a clap of thunder from a clear sky. It was the surprise of the commencement exercises thus far. There was, however, no demonstration till he had finished. Then the expression became at once the talk of the hour, and surrounded the statue. A number of professors said that the speech was very adroit. The members of the senior class especially regretted the utterance. One of the most prominent members of the class said: "We were offered the ivy, and accepted it with the best of feeling. It was offered in a spirit of reconciliation, and accepted in the same spirit. Hundreds of southerners have come to Yale, especially before the war, and certainly the act of accepting the ivy was one taken by all concerned in the kindliest spirit."

DETERMINED TO PLANT IT.

The Ivy Committee, started at the radical utterance, met immediately after the service, and voted to accept the ivy to plant the ivy, which was done as scheduled. Several Union soldiers who are back for graduation threatened to tear up the vine, but were given to understand that they would be dealt summarily with if they attempted to do so. The ivy has not been touched.

Quiet Wedding in Staunton.

STAUNTON, VA., June 22.—(Special)—Miss Kate Duval and City-Engineer Carter Harrison were quietly married here to-day in the parlor of the Hotel Virginia. The bride is a graduate of the Normal Institute. Rev. H. C. Jeffcott officiating. For several years past the bride has been one of the institute's faculty, and the bride and groom have many friends here who were happily surprised when they were informed of the wedding.

Instructed for Jones.

Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as" Pearline. IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, be honest—send it back.

Who pays for all the clothes, etc., that are worn out and torn to pieces in the wash? Who ever it is, he or she ought to insist that the washing shall be done with Pearline, and with Pearline only. Then that ruinous, expensive rub, rub, rub, over the wash-board, which makes all the trouble, will be done away with.

It isn't a little matter, either, this needless wear and tear. It's big enough to pay any man to look after it, and stop it. Pearline saves not only hard work, but hard-earned money.
